Position: Senior Civil or Environmental Engineer

The Woonasquatucket River Watershed Council (WRWC) seeks a Senior Civil or Environmental Engineer to join our Woonasquatucket River Greenway Team (WRGT). This position will involve working on planning, design, permitting, and construction administration for a range of projects related to the Woonasquatucket River Greenway expansion in Providence and Smithfield. An example of this is to help complete the final design and engineering for the Woonasquatucket River Greenway signage and landscape program. They will assist with the request for proposals and provide project oversight for installation and fabrication of Gateway signage for the Providence and Johnston portion of the greenway.

Under the general direction of a Director of Projects, this professional will support all aspects of the expansion including performing detailed site design (e.g., layout, grading, utilities, erosion & sediment controls, etc.), preparation of site plans and details; designing storm-water management systems; conducting field work.

Position Requirements

- Bachelor's (or graduate) degree in environmental or civil engineering
- Rhode Island PE required
- Relationships with/experience working with municipalities, RIDOT and RIDEM.
- Typically requires at least 8 years of experience in site design, roadway/bike-path design, green infrastructure and municipal/state/federal permitting
- Proficiency with AutoCAD and knowledge of appropriate storm-water software.

This position is FLEXIBLE: This position is part-time and could become a full-time position. It is possible to work in our Providence office or remotely.
